ELEVEN KILLED AND HUNDRED INJURED IN CALIFORNIA WRECK

Passenger Trains Collide With Terrific Force on Siding When Switch Is Opened—Rescue Crews Used Acetylene Torches to Cut Their Way Into Tangled Masses of Heavy Steel

NILAND, Cal., Sept. 20 (AP)—Eleven persons were killed and more than 100 injured today when the speeding Southern Pacific Argonaut was shunted into the Californian, loaded tourist train on a siding, by a careless brakeman. It was one of California's worst railroad wrecks in history. Some of the injured were expected to die.

Said C. F. Donatelli, Southern Pacific superintendent: "The wreck was caused by man failure, an in-explicable act by Eric Leonard Jacobson, head-end brakeman in our employ for eighteen years."

Jacobson, dazed, hysterical, by the effect of a decision he could not explain, violated an important rule of the service, namely: That when a train is on a siding, waiting for another to pass on a single main track, he must not approach nearer than twenty feet from the switch stand.

MASS OF TANGLED STEEL
Both locomotives were smashed to amorphous piles of scrap metal, five coaches were overturned and 800 feet of track ripped up by the terrific collision. Scores were trapped in the forward coaches of the Californian, and acetylene torches had to be used to reach some of the bodies.

S. C. Mason, white-haired engineer of the Californian, heard his fireman, P. E. Martin, shouting

POLICE RAID IS REMINDER

French Have Two Autonomy Problems to Be Solved At Home

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—A police raid on the headquarters of the Breton Autonomy Party at Rennes, 115-Erville, today reminded Frenchmen that they have two autonomy problems of their own.

The autonomy movements are in two widely-separated corners of the country—in Brittany, the northwestern peninsula, and Alsace-Lorraine, in the northeast German frontier region.

In Brittany police raided the headquarters of the Breiz Atao (Britannic Future) Society at Penne and seized posters demanding "No war for the Bretons against the will of the Breton people."

NEVER MINGLED
Although Brittany has been attached to France for more than 400 years, the Bretons living on the peninsula never have really mingled with the Gallic brethren in the rest of France.

Ascription in Lorraine in the manner of Nazis in new German Austria and the followers of Konrad Heinen in Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland has been reported, despite Reichsfuehrer Hitler's declaration that the return of the Saar in 1935 placed the end of German territorial claims in the direction of France.

Prussian-born Hermann Bickler, chief of the Abbatian Autonomist Party, has been hailed by his followers as the man who some day might lead them back to Germany. Most of the nearly 2,000,000 inhabitants of Alsace-Lorraine speak German.

Three Miners Lose Lives And One Critically Hurt In Coal Mine Near Fernie

Plague of Fleas Upsets Patience Of Poor Farmer
CHAPLIN, Sask., Sept. 20 (AP)—Farmers of this district, fifty miles west of Moose Jaw, accepted years of drought and drifting soil, infestations of grasshoppers and other pests, without complaint—but this time they're annoyed. This time it is fleas, millions of em.

Three men were killed, another is believed fatally injured and three others were rescued following a "bump" today in No. 1 east mine of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company at Coal Creek, five miles from here.

The dead are William Brown, sixty-three, brother-in-law, and William Green, fifty-nine, miner, married, and Thomas Manning, fifty, miner, married.

Critically injured is Thomas Biddulph, fifty-two, badly crushed body. Rescued Luigi Schianni, Joe Pallone and James Roberts, all miners. Pallone was taken out on a stretcher but is not believed to be seriously hurt.

IS FOUND UNHARMED
Roberts was unhurt when found by rescue workers, who cut through the upheaved tunnel floor and he joined the rescuers to find Schianni and Pallone, who were caught in a cave. Schianni walked out.

The area of the mine damaged is not extensive, but it is at a critical point so far as the workings are concerned and the mine will be closed down for some time. It was the only mine still operating in the district.

Four Days' Rain Takes Ten Lives

BOSTON, Sept. 20 (AP)—A toll of ten dead, three of them in one of two train derailments, injuries and widespread property damage was listed tonight in a four-day rain storm that has swelled rivers in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont over roads and lowlands.

Automobile accidents during the storm killed seven. Derailment of a Boston and Maine freight train during a hand slide at East Deerfield killed three trainmen and injured a fourth.

Later, a fireman and baggage man aboard a Boston-Montreal train were reported slightly injured when the train was derailed near Winchester.

FREIGHT TRAIN LEAVES RAILS

Fourteen Cars Sent Off Tracks, Near Nelson—Transients Uninjured

CRESTON, B.C., Sept. 20 (AP)—Fourteen cars of a heavy Canadian Pacific freight train loaded with lead and zinc concentrates left the rails six miles west of this Kootenay town today and tumbled off the crest of a hill.

A broken flange on a car load of zinc concentrates was blamed for the accident, which officials said would be up to traffic on the line until about noon tomorrow.

PLUNGE DOWN EMBANKMENT

Three transients riding the freight train jumped as two cars left the rails and plunged thirty feet down an embankment almost to the highway. No one was injured.

The cars piled up behind the car with the broken flange. They rode the ties for 400 yards along the right-of-way, tearing up the track. The first two on which the transients were riding jumped clear and rolled down the embankment, splashing their loads of zinc and lead concentrates.

The next seven cars remained intact on the roadbed, but the last five were piled zig-zag across the right-of-way.

TREATY REVISION IS PROGRESSING

Cabinet Meeting Considers Proposals Brought From Washington By Canadian Negotiators

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Proposals brought from Washington by the Canadian Mission negotiating for revision of the Canada-United States trade agreement were considered today by Cabinet Council, but no details were announced.

Following the regular weekly meeting, Hon. T. A. Cresser, Minister of National Resources, acting in place of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who is recovering from an attack of sciatica, said the Canadian negotiations were "pretty well advanced," but he would make no forecast as to when the new agreement would be signed.

It is understood negotiations for an Anglo-American agreement, carried on simultaneously with those between Canada and United States, have a definite connection with the Canadian agreement and may delay its conclusion.

Pressure Reported to Amount to Virtual Ultimatum Put Upon Czechoslovakia for Direct Answer—Warning Given Refusal Would Make Impossible Guarantee of Future

Prague Little Excited Over Possible Outbreak of War

PARIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Officials of the French Foreign Ministry disclosed today that France and Great Britain have refused to accept Czechoslovakia's plan for arbitration of the Sudetenland dispute with Germany and have demanded a flat yes or no answer.

Sources close to the Foreign Ministry said the new demand was a virtual ultimatum, warning that, if Czechoslovakia refused to accept the French-British proposals to cede the Sudeten areas to Germany, it would be impossible to guarantee the future existence of the country.

The numbers of the two powers were instructed to present the new demand to Prague at once and to demand an immediate reply tonight.

At the Quai D'Orsay, it was said the demand upon Czechoslovakia was framed in the evening in a long telephone conversation between the French Foreign Ministry and the British Foreign Office.

When a late night conference at the French Foreign Ministry broke up shortly after 1 a.m., Jules Henry, a French Ministry official said cryptically:

The latest news from Prague seemed to show a satisfactory solution is approaching.

ARBITRATION UNACCEPTABLE
It was learned from persons in close contact with Bonnet that France and Britain found absolutely unacceptable Czechoslovakia's proposal to settle the Sudetenland dispute by arbitration.

EXPECT HELP FROM RUSSIA

Czechs Confident of Soviet Support—Rumania Refuses Right-of-Way

MOSCOW, Sept. 21 (AP)—While Russia has maintained an official silence regarding her country's Czechoslovakia, her confidence in the Soviet Union will not let the little republic down.

The Czechoslovak minister, Zdenek Perlmutter, told The Associated Press early today that there was not the slightest doubt that Moscow would live up to its treaty of mutual assistance with Czechoslovakia.

This provides that Russia will aid Czechoslovakia in the event of aggression on condition that France goes to the republic's aid.

RUMANIA BALKS PLANS
GENEVA, Sept. 20 (AP)—Soviet Russia was reported today to have offered help to Czechoslovakia if she fights Germany, but Rumania, it was understood, threw a monkey wrench into the plan.

Rapid developments after a Czechoslovak appeal to Moscow to stand by the Prague Government should Germany try to seize Sudetenland apparently were brought to an abrupt end by a Rumanian refusal of right-of-way for Russian troops and arms.

Perlmutter said the Soviet Union to Czechoslovakia by way of Rumania is about 120 miles, through the Carpathian Alps.

Rumanian quarters indicated the Czechoslovak appeal to Moscow to stand by the Prague Government should Germany try to seize Sudetenland apparently were brought to an abrupt end by a Rumanian refusal of right-of-way for Russian troops and arms.

The petition said that the Ukrainians in Poland are being persecuted and that the Canadian Government should take action to secure their release.

B.C. Cabinet Group Leaves for Ottawa On Second Mission

Conferences With Federal Authorities Sought in Friendly, Co-operative Way, Premier Stresses—Building Requirements Under Review

BRITISH Columbia launched the second Cabinet mission of the year yesterday on its way to Ottawa, for discussions with the Dominion which Premier Pattullo took pains to point out would be of a friendly and co-operative nature. Premier Pattullo, Hon. John Hart, Hon. Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir and Hon. George S. Pearson, leaving here separately, will unite at Ottawa for a series of conferences with Federal departments and members of the Dominion Government. Three Treasury officials accompanied the party.

Before leaving, Premier Pattullo indicated the Administration would present a budget balanced on current account to the Legislature at its October sitting, and would depend upon capital borrowings for other needs, as required. The Province, he intimated, was mindful of a reduction in revenues from primary industry, and conscious of the fact that peak revenues last year may not be expected in the next fiscal period.

ten dispute under her 1926 treaty of friendship and arbitration with Germany.

They said Victor Leopold de la Croix had been told to point out in the strongest terms the danger to Czechoslovakia from what was described as a "negative or dilatory attitude in the face of Nazi preparations along the Czechoslovak borders."

French sources said Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain decided to postpone his trip to Godesberg, Germany, for his second face-to-face talk with Chancellor Hitler until Thursday, in the hope that by then Prague will have consented to amputation of her Sudeten regions.

MILITARY RULE

The French Government tonight announced it would put all work on air-raid protection in the Paris region under military rule.

The action was taken to overcome a strike of 160,000 building workers as international tension remained at a high pitch.

A communication of the Labor Ministry said the French Government would requisition factories furnishing material for "passive defence" and sites of refuge construction, because of the delays in work caused by the strike.

The building workers' strike broke out on Monday in a wage dispute with employers, just as the Government was urging more speed in construction of air raid shelters.

CABINET IS FIRM

Scathing remarks in parliamentary quarters and sarcasm in the press failed to shake Cabinet members who continued to maintain the stand they had taken in favor of granting Hitler's demands.

The French read with interest reports that Prime Minister Chamberlain of Great Britain might accept a proposal for general settlement of European affairs. Such a scheme would submerge the Czechoslovak issue in the larger one of all Germany's requirements and the concessions she might make, such as an agreement for general disarmament.

The broader hope—that the Czechoslovak crisis might open the doors to accomplishment of what years of diplomatic efforts have failed to do—was clutched eagerly, although it was considered slight.

ROUTINE MANOEUVRES

Steaming out of Toulon, the French Mediterranean fleet started four days of manoeuvres off the southern coast of France, but it was maintained officially they were "routine."

It was disclosed the French Government had issued a ministerial order suppressing all newswires and motion pictures taking what authorities considered a controversial stand on Czechoslovakia.

PRESENT NEW NOTE

PRAGUE, Sept. 21 (AP)—The British and French Ministers called on President Eduard Benes at 2:15 a.m. today to present a new note from their Governments, in which the pressing urgency of accepting the Anglo-French proposals for settlement of the Sudeten German crisis was emphasized.

It was the third time since 2 p.m. yesterday that London and Paris had made representations to the Government calling for a quick and definite answer on the plan for ceding predominantly German territory to Germany.

Immediately after receiving the latest note, despite the late hour, the Czechoslovak Cabinet resumed deliberations which it has carried on almost without interruption since yesterday morning.

All three notes were understood to declare Prague should accept immediately the plan rather than face the possible consequences of German invasion.

IMPORTANT RESERVATIONS

The Government last night dispatched its reply to the Anglo-French plan—a reply described unofficially as "acceptance in principle" with "important reservations."

The Government declared the reply left the way open for "further diplomatic negotiations" on the issue.

At the end of the day of deliberation, during which anti-aircraft gunners kept vigil on Kytlov Hill, around the President's Palace and Government Buildings, the Government issued this communiqué:

ISSUE COMMUNIQUE

"The Czechoslovak Government communicated this evening to the British and French Ministers in Prague a note in which it set forth its attitude to proposals brought forward by the British and French Governments."

"The attitude adopted makes possible further diplomatic negotiations in the spirit of conciliation which the Czechoslovak Government has always followed."

"Thus Czechoslovakia, seeking time in her efforts to maintain her present frontiers, answered the proposals drafted Sunday by British and French statesmen in London to meet Chancellor Hitler's demands."

British and French Ministers communicated the "plan" to the Czechoslovak Government on Monday.

OUTWARDLY CALM

Despite appearance of anti-aircraft defences on Government Hill and reports of three attacks on Czechoslovak customs houses by guerrilla-like bands crossing the border from Germany, Prague remained outwardly calm.

Czechoslovak authorities said they had evidence that some of Sudeten Leader Konrad Henlein's Free Corps took part in widespread harassing tactics along the frontier. Henlein, accused in Prague of treason, organized the armed Sudeten Corps from his refuge in Germany.

Prague showed considerable interest but little excitement over the possibilities of war. Czechoslovakia's red, white and blue flags appeared in greater number on the streets of the capital.

Posters plastered all over the capital warned shoppers how to black out the city in event of an air raid.

The opinion of the man in the street reflected increasing determination to resist invasion or dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

Some mutterings of impatience were indicated if the Government were to yield completely to German pressure it might have a difficult time surviving.

FURTHER PRESSURE

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP)—The British and French Governments tonight sought to bring further pressure on Prague to accept their plan for settlement of the Czech-Sudeten crisis by ceding portions of Sudetenland to Germany.

The French and British Ministers to Prague were instructed to make a further approach to the Czechoslovak Government after an announcement came from 10 Downing Street that Prime Minister Chamberlain would renew his discussions with Chancellor Hitler at Godesberg, Germany, on Thursday.

Because "time presses," the diplomatic representatives were asked to urge upon Foreign Minister Klotka of Czechoslovakia that he accept the plan drafted at weekend conferences here of British and French Government heads.

WANTS DEFINITE PLAN

It was understood Mr. Chamberlain desired to have a definite plan to lay before the German Führer.

It was expected Mr. Chamberlain would fly to Godesberg, Thursday, with tomorrow devoted here to discussion of the Czech note by the "Inner Cabinet." Discussion in the Rhine city will start at 3 p.m. (6 a.m. P.S.T.), permitting the Prime Minister to leave London in the morning.

Mr. Chamberlain's decision followed a stormy joint session of the National Council of Labor, representatives of French trade unions and the second International Socialist Party, which condemned the Anglo-French surrender to Hitler's threat of aggression.

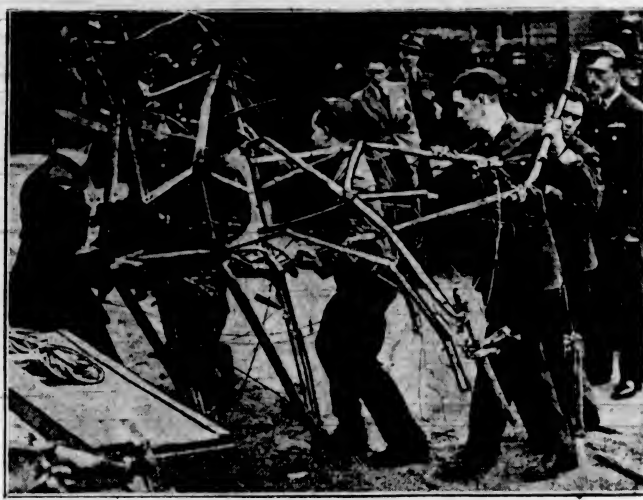

The National Council of Labor invited the French delegates to ascertain what pressure they were prepared to put on the French Government to modify the French "surrender."

The South Wales Miners' Federation condemned Mr. Chamberlain's "treachery... in negotiating a disgraceful settlement."

OFFICIAL WORRIES

What effect these reports, if true, would have on Chancellor Hitler, obviously worried official circles here. It has been understood Hitler has stressed the necessity of an

SEES TREND TO PIANO PLAYING

G. B. Heintzman Reports Sales Have Shown 100 Per Cent Increase

Classing frontier towns as one of the best markets for pianos, due to the fact that members of isolated communities rely on their own resources to create amusement, George Bradford Heintzman, vice-president of one of the leading Canadian piano companies, last night predicted a return to piano playing.

Mr. Heintzman is visiting the Coast for the first time in six years on a tour of inspection of the six western branches of his company.

"Many people seem to have the idea that there is a conflict between radio and piano, and that the latter creation of the one has driven the other off the market," the executive said in an interview at the Empress Hotel. "That is not strictly the truth, because there were many other factors that entered into the decline of piano sales after 1920."

Rapid growth of motoring, movies, and other outside attractions that drew people away from their homes in search of entertainment, were seen as the major factors in the decline of piano playing.

Mr. Heintzman stated. But piano playing is coming back.

"Modern youth, however, and its demand for self-expression, is boosting sales tremendously," the official asserted. "Particularly the younger generation between the ages of six and thirteen. They have passed through the stages in which the radio has come to be accepted as an integral part of the home, and now are on the lookout for some adequate means of releasing whatever musical talent they may have. Sales have shown 100 per cent gain over 1937."

Changes of design and incorporation of the last word in modernity in the outward appearance of the machines were in part responsible for the gain, he believed.

Apart from his position with the company, Mr. Heintzman is president of the Canadian Bureau for the Advancement of Music and the Canadian Piano Manufacturers' Association.

ELEVEN KILLED IN CALIFORNIA WRECK

"Jump! Jump! She's coming at us!" Mason jumped. He was the only survivor of the two locomotive crews. Martin was crushed to death in his cab.

IN TELESCOPE COACH Communication lines were cut down as poles fell along the right-of-way, smashed by the big, rushing locomotive. The third car of the Californian, a streamlined coach on a non-streamlined train, suffered greatest damage. The heavy baggage car in front telescoped it. All eight of the dead passengers were taken from this coach.

Although there were screams from hysterical passengers, order soon was restored, and J. H. Dyer, of San Francisco, a Southern Pacific vice-president, whose private car was attached to the Argonaut, took personal charge of the rescue work. The dead were taken to Brawley and Indio, nearby Imperial Valley points. The injured were taken by a hastily summoned train from Niland to Yuma, Ariz., and Indio.

One of the survivors of the wreck was the eight-month-old baby of Mrs. Joe Sorrells, of Tucson, Ariz. She was killed, but the infant was only slightly hurt.

NAMES OF VICTIMS The official, corrected death list in the collision follows:

Flora A. Tator, thirty, Rhinebeck, N.Y.

R. L. Challoner, in a brief address, asked for 100 per cent support of all the members during the forthcoming year. He expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him in his election to the presidency, but told the clubmen he needed their individual co-operation to make his tenure in office a success. Arthur Minnis spoke briefly in expressing his thanks to the members.

MEMBERSHIP GAIN Everett Taylor, retiring president, traced a successful year just passed in his report. The membership had been increased from sixty-three to sixty-six members, he said. He voiced his thanks to the directors and general membership for the support accorded him during his presidency. Mr. Taylor warmly praised the work of Mr. Butters as secretary, and expressed the club's thanks to the press and the orchestra composer of Charles Hunt and Harry Holder.

A satisfactory financial year was reported by Mr. Butters. Other reports were given by Mr. Minnis, chairman of the speakers' committee; Harry Savage, membership; Neil Grant, attendance; W. J. Clark, service clubs and boys' work; and R. L. Challoner, sports committee.

W. C. Hudson, sergeant-at-arms, turned in a substantial sum collected in fines from the members.

INSTALLATION DINNER It was announced that the installation of officers and dinner would be held on Saturday, October 1, at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club, commencing at 7:30 p.m. District Governor William Tobey, Prince Rupert, will act as installing officer, and it is expected that Lieutenant-Governor Roy Sharpe, Tacoma, will also attend the gathering.

Members were informed the 1939 Gyro International convention would be held at Jasper.

A communication was received from Frank Paulding, general secretary of the Y.M.C.A., asking the club to sponsor a membership drive or provide a team to solicit new members for the association. The club decided it would make every effort to form a team and solicit help from as many individual members as possible who would aid with the campaign.

His plan caught on, the bark with the staterooms was always booked to capacity, and the word "stateroom" was perpetuated in the English language.

Captain Shreve, after whom, by the way, Shreveport, Louisiana was named, did not conceive either the term or this usage by his time.

Staterooms and cabins were already interchangeable, but his institution of it on the Mississippi made it settled nomenclature in the United States.

The original application was undoubtedly after the ornate, splendid room in almost every hotel, palace or mansion, which was reserved for and requisitioned upon only ceremonial or state occasions.

Steamship companies borrowed it with the notion that the thought of traveling in a stateroom in state would lend added allure to oceanic voyage.

Rich were the cargoes of cotton and tobacco, and colorful mules have been the characters in the Mississippi crafts that Mark Twain pined between New Orleans and the upper river towns.

Many of the passengers were well-to-do playboys, and the owners of the vessel vied with each other in providing for them de luxe equipment, conveniences and refinements.

About 1844, one of the transport owners, Captain Henry Miller Shreve, thought it would be a good idea to distinguish the bed-rooms on his floating palace by naming them after the states bordering the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers that his liner plied—Louisiana, Tennessee, Arkansas and so on.

To You, he's the FAMILY BUTCHER—

To the Bank, he's BIG BUSINESS

FOR EXAMPLE, of the 86,600 borrowers on our books in Canada at end of our 1937 business year, 61,728 had loans for $500 and less. In other words nearly 70 per cent of these clients were what might be termed "small" borrowers—owners of businesses, farmers, and ordinary men and women requiring money for legitimate personal needs.

Small loans are Big Business to this Bank, which desires at all times to meet the legitimate credit needs of business and private individuals. Your enquiries are invited.

In twelve months 10,500,000 individual deposits were accepted from customers and 40,000,000 cheques cashed, entered, checked and rechecked by The Royal Bank alone.

THE DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS... 1918

Awarded to officers and warrant officers of the Air Force for valor, or devotion to duty in active operations against the enemy, this coveted decoration was instituted on June 3, 1918, by King George V, when it was felt that decorations awarded to other arms were not appropriate for the then new flying branch of the fighting service. From a distinctive blue and white diagonal striped ribbon is suspended a beautiful silver cross as shown. There are awarded for subsequent acts and rosettes are worn on the ribbon when the ribbon is worn without the cross in undress uniform. Recipients are permitted to use the letters D.F.C. after their names.

A TEMPORARY EXPEDIENT

It may be, though not yet verified officially, that France and Great Britain have agreed to the partition of Czechoslovakia. If German claims are to be satisfied, that partition can only lead to the inclusion of much of the Sudeten area in the Reich. That would mean translating self-determination without the trial of a plebiscite. The corollary of it is that each group of the various nationalities that make up the Czech State might well, in turn, be allowed to decide on its future status. That would imply the breaking up and disappearance of Czechoslovakia, and a powerful thrust by German influence in the affairs of Central Europe.

It is certain that no agreement reached by France and Great Britain with the present Government in Germany can be regarded as bound by the sanctity of international law. The regime that has torn up the Treaty of Versailles, shred by shred, has declared the ethics that govern its international relationships. It may be taken for granted that if Germany's viewpoint prevails in the present European crisis, it is only a question of time, and a very short time, before a new crisis will arise. France and Great Britain will only be postponing the day of reckoning. They would be postponing it equally by agreeing to the Sudeten area becoming an autonomous State. Herr Hitler's Nuremberg speech has persuaded the Sudeten Germans that their future lies within the Reich. That is the goal they are now seeking to achieve.

Tomorrow the proposals of France and Great Britain will be communicated to the German Chancellor. What his reaction is may not be known for some days; but if, as forecast, those proposals favor the partition of Czechoslovakia, then it is likely they will be accepted as a temporary solution of the crisis. Herr Hitler will have won his point; he can afford to wait the turn of circumstances before he puts his plans into effect for the entire elimination of Czechoslovakia as a State and its economic and political conquest by Germany.

These are days when treaty rights are ignored. The Franco-Czechoslovakian pact may turn out to be a dead letter. Great Britain has no commitment to go to the aid of President Benesh's realm if it is attacked, though the assumption has been that she would do so if France became involved. France appears to have reached the decision that she can prevent being called upon to implement the provisions of her treaty with the Czechs by allowing the Sudeten Germans to become absorbed in the Reich, a happening which, for the time being, would prevent an incursion by Germany on the remainder of the Czechoslovakian State. In that sense France can claim that she does not need to fight for the Czechs, since they will be temporarily immune from attack.

What is now being done towards a solution of the present crisis is in the interests of the peace of Europe, but it does not take the long view. There are no guarantees that Herr Hitler can give regarding the future that can be taken at their face value. A dictator lives by gratifying his ambitions and constantly implementing actions that will increase his country's prestige, or increase it in the light of what he considers to be its destiny. The restless Hitlerian temperament will go on demanding new satisfactions. The Germany of today is stronger and more self-sufficient than the Germany of 1914, and it will continue to seek new outlets for its ambitions. In the process it is bound, before long, to come into conflict with other of the great Powers. A Germany spreading to the Mediterranean and the Black Sea is acquiring an appetite that grows with what it feeds upon, and its taste is constantly being titillated by dreams of new conquests. Herr Hitler, devoid of the military genius of Napoleon, has a similar vision of dominion as had the Man of Destiny.

THE ALBERTA BUREAU OF INFORMATION

Grammatical correctness is not always a matter of vital importance to radical politicians. Naturally enough the literary standards appropriate to scholastic institutions are not rigidly insisted upon in the rough and ready interchange of political controversy. Men of sense know very well that people who are indifferent to the niceties of English undefiled sometimes hold sound political opinions. It is no great misdemeanor to forget for a moment that a verb should agree with its subject in number, and some very excellent ideas have found expression in ill-constructed sentences. Nevertheless, it is a matter of some regret that picarescences of the kind mentioned should be seen in documents issued by the authority of government.

In Edmonton, Alberta, there is a "Bureau of Information and News" which prepares and sends out pamphlets and leaflets from time to time. On one of these leaflets there is a picture of the Provincial Parliament Buildings with the impressive legend, "Home of the First Social Government in the World." It bears the title, "Democracy Denied," a phrase chosen, no doubt, for its fine alliterative effect, rather than for any definite idea that it conveys. While the literary style of these Alberta leaflets leaves much to be desired, there are, it is fair to admit, one or two pamphleteering tricks that their authors are well acquainted with. Advertisers know the value of repetition, and the Alberta pamphleteers know it, too. Accordingly, they repeat in this pamphlet, as they have repeated over and over again in former ones, that "Banks are manufacturers of credit," that "Banks create money out of nothing," that "Banks are the only concerns that pay taxes without it costing them anything."

The Alberta Bureau makes much use of the device of repetition, but it has other tools in its bag of tricks. One of these is the solemn use of vague and cryptic language. The following appears on the latest official leaflet from Edmonton: "The Alberta Legislature was within its powers—a sovereign Legislature—Lord MacMillan, London, July 6, 1938."

At its face value the sentence may be taken to mean that the Alberta Legislature is competent to deal with certain matters assigned to it in the B.N.A. Act. However, the Alberta authorities placed at the head of this quotation the significant title "Sovereignty Acknowledged," thus suggesting, without actually saying it, that in Lord MacMillan's opinion the Alberta Legislature was within its constitutional rights in passing certain measures which were cruelly disallowed, or declared unconstitutional by the courts!

CANADA'S DEFENCE

A meeting has just been held in Winnipeg of the Infantry and Machine Gun Association of Canada, one of the functions of which is to make representations to the Government concerning defence organization. There ought to be no necessity for such a body, for a properly-equipped Ministry of Defence could itself work out all the essentials needed for the purpose for which it exists. Nevertheless, the association in question probably fulfills a useful function, for it is chiefly pressure brought upon Governments that keeps them spurred on to doing anything.

It is a notorious fact that Canada's defensive forces are starved for equipment. It was announced that the army of the Dominion, small as it is, was to be mechanized, but it would take all of the $35,000,000 voted for naval, military and aerial defence to carry out this purpose. The equipment of the land forces is at present very much out of date. Those who enlist in the Militia are expected to pay a too considerable proportion of the expense for the privilege of service. Their equipment is inadequate; their training is altogether insufficient; the inducements held out for enlistment are too feeble. This state of affairs exists while the world is ringing with alarms of war. The Winnipeg convention at least reminds the country of how recalcitrant it is to an obvious duty, that of bringing its defensive forces, no matter how small they may be, to a condition in which they can compare in equipment and the essentials of fighting with any similar force in the world.

"BOB" MYRA

The Colonist today is mourning the death of Mr. Robert A. Myra, who passed away as a result of a tragic accident in the course of his duties in the Composing Room of this newspaper. The oldest employee of the Composing Room in point of service, "Bob" Myra, as he was familiarly known to young and old, had won a wide measure of respect during thirty-two years of association with the newspaper. Quiet and unassuming, always minding his own business and doing so in a thoroughly efficient way, he carried on his task uncomplainingly, and it was only when called for a good deal of patience. He was regarded as a workman who had mastered his duties, both because of natural ability and his close attention to them, and because of his earnest good will and hearty response to all calls on his services he earned the friendship of all those with whom he was associated. Any employee who serves one institution as long as he did becomes something in the nature of an institution himself. That was what was felt of "Bob" Myra. Throughout all departments of The Colonist his loss comes as a poignant blow, and this newspaper, as well as all those associated with it, and the numerous friends Mr. Myra had made during his lengthy residence in Victoria, extend the deepest sympathy to his widow and other relatives in the loss they have sustained.

In these days of propaganda it is no longer safe to judge a man by what he stands for in the way of convictions. He seems to be governed more by what he "falls for" in embracing the doctrines so vociferously advocated by some of his fellow men.

Four things belong to a judge, to hear courteously, to answer wisely, to consider soberly, and to decide impartially.—Socrates.

Congratulations to the Trans-Canada Air Lines on the inauguration of air-express service between Winnipeg and Vancouver on a scheduled basis. A Victoria pilot, Maurice McCreary, flew on the two machines initiating the service. So, here are Winnipeg and Vancouver seven hours apart, in place of three days. Something else happened at the same time. Stevenson Field, Winnipeg, and Sea Island, Vancouver, took their places in commercial time-tables as points from which, or to which, businessmen could move goods in a hurry. Air commerce, in fact, Winnipeg is so situated that it may develop a large and profitable flow of business from the air. Vancouver stands to gain from its terminal facilities, looking both east and west across the world. Seven hours to Winnipeg. It is the new way, part of a new world!

Across the border, scheduled air transportation has been in successful operation for almost a dozen years. There are three continental-wide air routes, and scores of feeder lines. The business developed has in the main been new business; traffic that had not originated before. From point to point, the plane is feeding the railways and the steamships, as supplementary aids to the older established means of transportation. Express air freight has become a whole new business in itself, while air mail has increased all mails handled, not subtracted from them. It is no accident, but the logical result of much applied effort, that air traffic has risen in an astounding way in the last ten to twelve years, until today south of the line it is reckoned in the millions of passengers, and in tens of millions of pounds of mail and air freight. The always system has built whole new cities, and revived dwindling ones. Canada has had to wait a long time for her civilian air routes, but now they are going in, we shall get some use from them. Seven hours to Winnipeg from the Pacific is only a first result.

Yesterday this narrator was privileged to talk for a moment with British Columbia's senior columnist, who is living in Vancouver, regarding Victoria with a friendly eye. He says as citizens you are a sane and reasonable people. That you are courteous, and even kind. In short, he likes you. Let me tell you that you are honored. There is a man with seventeen candles on his official birthday cake, one whose birthday must now reach the amazing total of more than 5,000,000 years. Probably, it is more than that; but it cannot, surely, be less. So, as citizens, you can take a new pride in yourselves. You are a sane and reasonable people. You are kind. You are courteous. If there had been given me the rest of your character; and it would have been a good one, too. But to be sane itself would have been enough. That is the highest compliment, in these days. It would be presumptuous on the part of this columnist, with but two birthday candles on his official cake, to endorse the views of so distinguished a writer, and so able a judge. Nor is there need. When you get a ruling like that from the highest court rest content; let the other fellow appeal.

The leaves are coming down, the good brown leaves of Autumn. All year long, old boys and young boys have been waiting for this chance. Now they have it. The youngsters will get out on the road and kick the leaves along the gutter, to set them dancing. The oldsters will wait until dusk, and under cover of the twilight will do precisely the same thing, with many a backward glance to avoid detection. Of the two, the oldsters will have the more fun with the leaves, and will keep it up longer. They will arrive at home with pockets bulging with rich brown chestnuts, and memories of the ancient game of conkers. The wind will take it up presently. It will blow down the street with a merry tune, and set the leaves waiting under trees. It will bluster them into a great concourse, to set them tripping in couples by the hundreds. It will catch them up and take them for a flight under delivery rays of the great harvest moon. It will leave them in heaps and bundles at the dawn, tired out with a night of prancing. For the wind, too, is a merry fellow. It has been waiting for the leaves to come down, so that it will have company for its pranking.

Life—Could you give me a little more?—Hubby—Certainly, my dear; about how little?

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 21, 1888)

Erection of Light and Telephone Poles—There seems to be a boom in the matter of erecting electric light and telephone poles at the present time, and streets which at one time presented a moderately pleasing appearance are gradually becoming lined with rows of unsightly wooden poles. There is also the probability in the near future that there will be large additions to the number of poles, and the streets on which they are erected. Perhaps the most clumsy erection of the lot is that on which the electric lights and wires are strung. In order that the streets may not be made altogether ugly and the beauty of our city destroyed, a resolution or by-law should be at once passed compelling companies to paint their poles in some approved color, and a good example might be set by this city starting in on their own.

To Open Public Park in Vancouver—His Worship the Mayor of Vancouver has sent invitations to the mayors and citizens of Victoria, Nanaimo and Westminster to be present and take part in the opening of the public park in that city on the 27th inst. The various secret and friendly societies in the city have also been invited to join in the procession, which is to drive along the park road to the grounds, where the ceremony of naming, opening and handing over to the commissioners of the park will take place.

EMPIRE MINES ARE VALUABLE

Dr. J. F. Walker Speaks of Comparative Wealth in Mineral Products

Dr. J. F. Walker, deputy minister of mines for British Columbia, in an address before the Kiwanis Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel, reversed the order generally held regarding the relative importance of mineral products when he pointed out that the test as to importance was the ratio in which these minerals were essential to the industrial life of the country. Having this view in mind, he estimated that coal was fifteen times as important as diamonds to a country.

Countries were trying to make themselves self-sustaining, said the speaker. This meant that among the mineral products coal and petroleum were the most important, were of first importance. Following that, the importance of iron was recognized in the production line, and this was followed up by copper, lead and zinc, gold and silver, and fertilizers.

The British Commonwealth of Nations was well self-sufficient in this line, Dr. Walker continued. The United States followed with the fact that it controlled the greater part of the world's supply of petroleum, no so important. If the United States were given first place in the control of mineral products of use to the nation, the British Commonwealth would rank second in the world, with Canada by itself ranking sixth.

NATIONAL WEALTH
The British Empire and the United States controlled over 50 per cent of the mineral wealth recognized as most important in the life of the country.

Dr. Walker pointed to the anomaly that in 1914 Germany increased its nickel purchases five-fold, with the result that it was supplying this and the United States ranking second. The means of supplying armaments were thus provided Germany in the early years of the war from Canada and the United States.

Dealing with attracting population to British Columbia, Dr. Walker said that the province was not doing so well in farming or in the diminishing character of the forests that these industries were capable of supplying in future a large population. Mineral resources were found all over the province, however, in one form or another. The province was often called a mining country. Certainly Canada was a mineral country. With very few exceptions, the mining towns built up in Canada so far had been located, however, within about 100 or 200 miles of the national boundary. The prices were not controlled by British Columbia in a mining way, and prices were most important in the matter of production. What was obtained for our metals was a complicated matter in world trade, the speaker concluded.

The speaker was introduced by the president, J. G. MacFarlane, and the thanks of the club were conveyed to him by Howard Leggett.

Yo-Yo Is Coming Back

They say events happen in cycles, and it appears a yo-yo cycle has returned. The little toy top that had its birth many centuries ago in the Philippine Islands and a few years ago had boys and girls, and even adults, spinning it, has once again returned to popularity as a plaything. Like miniature golf, handies, etc., yo-yo manipulating seemed to have vanished, but it has struck the schoolyards once more and seems destined to eclipse its former popularity. We might buy one and see if we can do more than just drop it down and let the top take a few spins—the extent of our prowess when the novelty held away here first.—W.F.

Ripley Wrong

Some time ago, Robert L. Ripley stated that the Seydlitz twins of Vienna, Austria, were identical in height, weight, features and even fingerprints. The annals of criminology reveal that no two sets of prints are identical. This week copies of the Seydlitz twins' prints were received by Detective Dave Raussa, Mrs. Peggy Moore, Mrs. Thea Johns, George Farmer, Dudley Wickett, Phillip Heal, Yorkie and Gerry (ventriloquist and dummy), and Mr. Lester, Mrs. M. McCurdy, Mrs. Jamie Cameron and Mrs. Gibson were the piano accompanists.

H. J. Davis, president, expressed the organization's thanks to the artists and Mr. Lester for the entertaining programme.

MANY NEW MEMBERS
It was announced that applications had been received from thirty new members. Persons interested in Little Theatre work are asked to communicate with Miss Mae Murray, secretary, at 132 South Turner Street, or H. J. S. Reynolds, at the Bank of Montreal.

A general committee will be selected at the October meeting. Plans are already under way for alterations to headquarters which will be carried out in the near future. It is planned to have the seats set in tiers and the stage raised, thus insuring a perfect view of the performers from any point in the audience.

"Night Must Fall," the play which the organization will present in the Shrine Auditorium in October, is now well into rehearsal. It was announced that the play would be given at the theatre.

Dorothy Cox convoked the serving of refreshments at the gathering.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (AP).—Axel Duhenberg has found it doesn't always pay to be kind to those who ask for aid, police were told today. He reported he had bought a stranger a meal and then allowed him to clean up his room as payment. The stranger made a clean up of Duhenberg's clothes, valued at $25, instead.

Glancing Over Sport

Do you know that Mildred "Babe" Dickerson, one of the greatest athletes in history, broke the world's record for women golfers for the recent distance in the recent Southern California open championship when she posted a card of 292? This is just sixteen strokes better than the mark established not long ago by Patty Berg, the Minneapolis red-head, in the Western Women's tournament. Tonight in Vancouver the British Columbia Football Commission will decide whether or not the Elks Club of this city will have a franchise in the Inter-City League this season. I believe the franchise will be given, despite the fact that the move is being opposed by other local sources. This boy Al Hostak cuts them down as fast as he can. Fighting Young Stuhley in a non-title fight in Seattle the other night, the savage Slav took only three heats to stop the Chicagoan, and he could have performed the trick in the first, according to reports. It will take a mighty good man to dethrone the middleweight champion, for he is not only a terrific puncher with either hand, but very fast and clever. The basketball season will get under way soon and the big question around the basketball courts these days is: Who will the Dominions have this year?—J.D.

Miss Kelly Married to Mr. Gwynne Wheatley

Pretty Wedding Solemnized at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay—Bride and Groom Will Make Their Home at Port Alberni

St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday morning when at 10:30 o'clock the marriage of Dorothy Constance Fletcher, only daughter of the late Mr. Gwynne Kelly, of Vancouver, and South Pender Island, and Mrs. Kelly, became the bride of Mr. Francis Gwynne Wheatley, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Wheatley, Vancouver, formerly of Maple Creek, Alberta.

Rev. R. D. Porter, Mayno, Island, officiated at the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Archdeacon Nunn, rector of St. Mary's. Mr. F. T. C. Wickert presided at the organ and during the service the hymn, "May the Grace of Christ Our Saviour" was sung. Beautiful white gladioli adorned the altar and vases of pink gladioli were arranged along the chancel rail.

LOVELY BRIDE

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fitzroy Kelly, Los Angeles, the bride was lovely as she entered the church, wearing a beautifully cut gown of soft ivory transparent velvet, made on pinpoints lines with a short train. Tiny self-covered buttons from neckline to the waist fastened the gown at the back and the bodice was fashioned with a French draped high neckline. The sleeves, full at the shoulder, were long and close fitting. Her dimly veiled ivory Brussels net, an heirloom, was worn over her face during the service and she carried a lovely spray of white Calla lilies, with sprigs of white heather and myrtle. Her only attendant was her cousin, Miss Kitty Lake, who looked charming in a bouffant frock of powder blue silk net, and wore a short-sleeved jacquette, which was trimmed with narrow braid forming a design. Her broad-trimmed hat of matching tone was trimmed with French flowers in delicate pastel shades and her Victorian bouquet was composed of roses, bouvardia and sweet peas. Mr. David Howden, Port Alberni, was best man.

THE RECEPTION

The home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Sir Richard and Lady Lake, Newport Avenue, was the setting for the small wedding reception, which on account of a recent bereavement in the bridegroom's family, was attended only by relatives and a few old friends.

Chemainus Review

The regular meeting of the Chemainus Review, No. 19, W.B.A., was held with the president in the chair. New decks of cards for the Fall season were turned in to the review, these having been purchased during the Summer months. The way and means committee, regretfully reported that owing to local conditions, it was felt in the best interests of the fraternity to cancel all charge card parties and dances until such time as the mill employees were working full time, or until lack of funds made them necessary. They advised, however, that a splendid Winter programme had been drawn up. Special attractions are being planned for regular meetings. At the first meeting in October, it is expected that the review will be exemplified by the guard and officers from the Victoria review. A baby spoon has been presented to baby Saunders. Mesdames Neale, Murray and Cook will convene a special programme for the next meeting. Miss Cook, whose marriage takes place shortly, was presented by review members, with a beautiful table lamp. Following the meeting, a social evening and dance was held. Mrs. Cherrington convoked the supper.

First United W.M.S.

Prior to the regular monthly meeting of the First United W.M.S., which was held on Monday, the members gathered in the church auditorium in conjunction with the Victoria Presbytery to hear Rev. R. B. McClure, medical missionary, of Honan, China, who recently arrived in Victoria. At the business meeting which followed, Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, president of the society, presided. Secretarial reports and dues were received and an appeal made for a stove, bed and a chair for Uluet, Vancouver Island. A social hour was enjoyed after the meeting when an opportunity was given the large number present to become better acquainted with Rev. Hugh A. and Mrs. McLeod. Tea was served at daintily-appointed tables by Mrs. J. H. Fletcher's circle.

Moore, first vice-president, was in the chair. Mrs. A. G. McDonald and Miss Sutherland had charge of the devotional period. After reports had been read, Rev. J. L. W. McLean gave an interesting talk on "The Work of Our Church in Canada," showing that there are 87,899 families connected with the Presbyterian Church, an increase of 396 families over last year. After the meeting, tea was served.

Strong Recovery Made by Stocks On Wall Street

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP).—Wall Street stepped out from behind its protective shield today and joined Europe in a moderate buying spurge in security markets, giving stocks another strong recovery boost.

Confident—large-scale conflict would be avoided by the British—French plan for dismemberment of Czechoslovakia to settle the German minority issue seemed to take firm hold of financial sentiment.

It was fostered in Wall Street by a broad upturn in London, Amsterdam and Paris markets before dealing began here, and by indications of at least a temporary halt in the panicky flight of capital from Europe to the United States.

For the first time since August 25, no gold engagements abroad for shipment here were announced. The British pound rallied in terms of the dollar.

Among shares one to four higher at the finish were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, John-Manville, Eastman, Ancon, American Smelting, American Telephone, Youngstown Sheet, Sears Roebuck, U.S. Rubber, General Electric, Union Carbide, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Electric Auto Lite.

Transactions were 1,083,310 shares, against 825,400 yesterday.

The Associated Press composite price of sixty stocks closed at 47, up 14 points.

Some metals were especially favored in a broadly higher copper market. Aluminum Ltd. bounced up 3-4 and Newmont Mining Co. 2 or more higher were Aluminum Co. of Canada, Carrier Corp., Humble Oil, Gulf Oil and Pittsburgh Plate Glass. Sherwin Williams was up 7-12. Volume of 118,000 shares, compared with 102,000 Monday.

Reported heavy orders from small banks advanced U.S. Government obligations over a broad front in the bond market. Price advances ranged up to 29-32nds of a point.

Better international news lifted all other divisions. Czechoslovakia 8 3/4 of 32 advanced 4-14 to 8 1/2 and the 8 1/4 of 32 went up 1-2 to 8 1/4. German 7 1/2 of 40 at 30-1/2 and Japan 6 1/2-25 at 72-1/2 to 72-1/2 advanced 2-1/2.

Pirates' Pitching Staff Facing Hard Task With Dodgers

Pittsburgh's Mound Stars Must Go Through With Double-Headers With Brooklyn Today and Tomorrow—Cincinnati Reds to Meet Giants—Yankees Lose Fifth Straight to Sox

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirates again found their pitching staff faced with extra duty today as rain washed out their National Baseball League double-header with Brooklyn. The Pirates must play two games with the Dodgers tomorrow and Thursday.

Pirate Manager Pie Traynor can find some consolation in the fact the second-place Chicago Cubs, three and one-half games back of the Pirates, are likewise burdened. The Cubs must meet the Phillies, especially dangerous for pennant contenders this season, in two games on the same days.

The other two first division clubs, Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants, meet in a double bill tomorrow. The Reds are five games behind the Pirates and the Giants six and one-half.

Additional rain probably will mean cancellation of games as the contending clubs are booked almost solidly from now until the end of the season. October 2. All clubs concerned would have to agree before the schedule could be shuffled to play off the games. It is not likely the Pirates will do this, since cancelled games are in their favor.

YANKS LOSE AGAIN

The Champion New York Yankees hit a new low yesterday for Joe McCarthy's eight years as manager when they lost to Chicago White Sox 3-4, for their fifth straight American League baseball defeat.

Not since McCarthy took over from Bob Shawkey in 1931 had the Yanks lost five in a row. Monte

Deer Plentiful At Port Alberni

PORT ALBERNI, Sept. 20 (AP)—Much to the disappointment of many hunters, the opening of the grouse season was not as successful as in past years, and not many secured a bag limit. It had been expected that with a long dry summer that there would be many birds, but for some reason or other this was not the case. The grouse season was discovered that there was an extraordinary number of bush rats, and some of the hunters are of the opinion that these must have destroyed the young birds. Deer were fairly plentiful and large numbers were killed.

Bay Rugger to Travel for Game On the Mainland

The following will make the trip: Bert Bray, Bob Mair, Campbell Forbes, Bert Simpson, Russ Brown, Bill Hallett, Ken Ruxton, Jack Ferguson, Tom Dalziel, Frank Doherty, Les Bridge, George Langdon, Fred Smith, Gordie Petticrew and Joe Andrews. The latter played with U.B.C. last season.

MINNEAPOLIS STAR WINS TEN STRAIGHT HOLES IN NATIONAL

Blazes Spectacular Trail to Score "Shutout" Victory Over Mrs. M. Davy—Mrs. Glenna Vare Among First Day's Casualties—Canadian Is Defeated—British Players Win

CHICAGO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Chubby Patty Berg, of Minneapolis, blazed a spectacular trail to new heights in the Women's United States Golf Championship today with an amazing 10 and 8 "shutout" victory as she paced a smart field into tomorrow's second and third rounds of match play.

The day saw a majority of favorites stick in the title running and one veteran campaigner, Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, bow out of the championship picture.

Miss Berg routed Mrs. Myron Davy, of Washington, by winning ten straight holes and "burned up" the Westmoreland course. She toured the first nine in 38 one under par, and won with a par four on the tenth green.

A young Georgia star, Dorothy Kirby, of Atlanta, sent Mrs. Vare to the sidelines. All even through sixteen holes, Miss Kirby took the seventeenth as her opponent—six times winner of the crown—bunkered her tee shot. A half on the eighteenth ended the veteran's hopes.

A majority of favorites came through as expected. Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, of Chapel Hill, N.C., the defending champion, downed Mrs. Eric Phillips, of Toronto, the only Canadian to survive the qualifying round, 4 and 3. Dorothy Traub, of San Francisco, co-medaled with Mrs. Page, eliminated Mrs. Lillian Zech, of Chicago.

Marion Miley, of Lexington, Ky., sent Dorothy Ellis, of Indianapolis, out, and Maureen Orcutt, Haworth, N.J., trounced Bernice Wolf, of Chicago and Oshkosh, Wis. Those victories were by 4 and 3 margins.

INVASERS WIN
Four members of the British contingent of six players advanced to the second round. They were Mrs. J. B. Walker, Jessie Anderson, Clarie Tierman and Mrs. Diana Fishwick Critchley.

Miss Anderson eliminated a British Curtis Cup teammate, Nan Steel Baird, 5 and 4, while Phyllis Wade, also a member of the British Curtis squad, bowed to Helen Waterhouse, of Warwick, R.I. one up.

Two rounds of play tomorrow will reduce the field to eight contestants.

World's Leading Pros to Tee Off Today in Open $13,500 Meet

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—A billion Derby for golfers, with upwards of $13,500 at the end of the five-day grind, opens tomorrow as 275 pros and amateurs start in the 108-hole Westchester championship.

Every famed United States pro shotmaker is entered in the medal play championship, the longest big-time tournament in the game's history. First prize money is $5,000, added cash prizes for exceptional low shots and a long-distance driving contest present a possibility of raising the big jackpot, offered by George Murphy, of New York, to $22,000.

The three-star new guard of the United States open championship Ralph Guldahl, Blammin' Sammis Sneed and young Bryon Newson, of Reading, Pa., rate as hottest contenders. The chase ends Sunday evening.

Eighty-five will play eighteen holes tomorrow and the remainder the same number Thursday. Then the field will be reduced to the low 150 and less. Those low 150 will play eighteen holes Friday, whereupon the field will be reduced to low sixty and ties for the Saturday and Sunday windup, each over thirty-six holes.

"I'll Teach You to Try to Date Up My Girl!"

LIFE'S LIKE THAT - By Fred Neher

"Heads Up, Paw . . . Here Comes Your Lunch!"

Jane Dixon Says:

A GIRL REGRETS HAVING NEGLECTED HER SCHOOLING NOW THAT SHE HAS FALLEN IN LOVE WITH AN EDUCATED YOUNG MAN

A young woman writes this column to ask: Is a difference in education a stumbling-block to married happiness?

The answer is, yes and no. It depends upon the sum of the difference and upon how much importance the better educated person attaches to his or her intellectual asset.

Dear Jane Dixon: I am a girl of eighteen, but have not gone to school since I was fourteen, when I finished grammar school. My people were poor and my help was needed at home. I didn't think anything of it at the time. In fact I was glad to quit school, as I never was much of a scholar. I know now that my parents would have managed some way to put me through high school if I had told them I wanted to go on. What a fool I was! But how did I know it would mean everything to me?

Last year I met a young man whose family is away high up. They all have fine educations, like books and lectures and classical music and things like that. I guess you'd call them highbrow.

The young man has told me he loves me, and I love him better than anyone in the world. I'm sure he wants to ask me to marry him, but something stands between us. He finished high school, went to a preparatory school and then graduated from college. He has even taken post-graduate work and special courses. His father has a big business which will be his some day, and the whole family do a lot of traveling.

Do you think I'm right: that the young man is afraid he might be ashamed of me, having such a poor education, not being able even to use the right grammar all the time?

What can I do so he will love me enough to forget I'm not all he'd like in a wife? Please help—Alma L.

Comment: If the young man loves you, he does not consider the possibility of being "ashamed" of you, though with a mind trained to reason he may very well question whether two persons so far apart in mind could be congenial companions.

Intelligent persons know that in marriage companionship is equally as important as love; that when the first flush of love simmers down into the actual business of matrimony, companionship is the rock to which it must anchor or upon which it must founder.

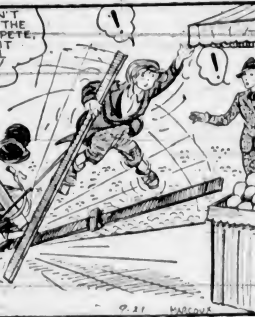

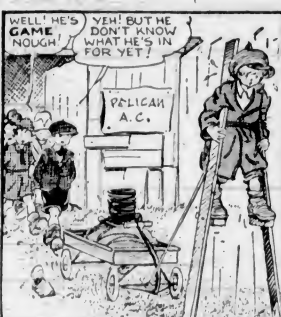

You are still very young. Why don't you try to improve your education now, with regular study and good reading? Determine you will make the young man admire what you do, not forget what you are.

Ask a teacher in your school to recommend textbooks that will do so much for you if you will have the courage and the stick-to-it-iveness to help yourself.

His Selection Wins Third Straight at The Willows Track

Races to Victory in Third Event at Local Meet—Barris, Locally-Owned Thoroughbred, Is Day's Longshot—Daily Double Returns $399

Form players who have been taking a beating at the Willows track since the opening of the race meeting on September 10, gained some measure of revenge yesterday, when the favorites came down in front in four of the seven gallops.

The running surface, made heavier by the overnight rain, provided excellent footing for the mudders, and, running to form, they scored nicely. Even in the first three events, where good prices ruled, thoroughbred favorites have displayed a liking for the heavy going, led the parades to the wire.

With public choice mounts getting more than an even break in the day's running, it was left for Barris, locally-owned four-year-old gelding from the Wentworth Stables, to provide the longshot thrill of the day. Going to the gates at the longest odds in the event, Barris, with Hruschak in the pilot house, kept close to the pacemakers, and caught Bob-Jack, the leader, in the last few strides. The winner—paid $48.70 straight, $17.30 place and $7.80 show.

THIRD VICTORY

His Selection, T. I. Mason's black six-year-old gelding, gained the distinction of being the first "triple" winner at the local track, when he galloped to victory in the second race of the day at five and one-half furlongs. Daimado, riding for the winner home in front.

Daily double punters, who held winning tickets on His Selection, found naming the winner of the third race, Barris, a difficult proposition. However, two bettors covering the eight thoroughbreds in the third gallop and collected the handsome return of $399 for their two-horse selection.

Al Hostak Will Defend Boxing Crown on Nov. 1

SEATTLE, Sept. 20 (AP)—Promoter Nate Druksman said tonight that middleweight Champion Al Hostak, who knocked out Young Stuhley in a warm-up match last night, signed to meet an unnamed opponent in a fifteen-round title event here November 1.

He said Manager Eddie Marino, who signed the contract with Hostak, made no stipulation as to Al's opponent.

The promoter said he was negotiating with managers of three fighters—Walter Woods of New York; Billy Krueger, of Brooklyn; and Glen Lee, of Los Angeles. The fight will be a night event, at the Civic Auditorium.

Druksman said he did not consider Young Corbett or Fred Apostoli as opponents, because they are boxing in New York, Nov. 18.

Quinnella bets in the fifth and seventh races returned $18.70 and $25.85, respectively.

Holliday and Sport, each with two winners, were the leading riders for the day. Daimado, Hruschak and Christensen were the other winning handbooks.

Approximately 100 excursionists here from Vancouver visited the track and witnessed the bangtails in action.

Today's seven-race programme will feature the Cowichan Handicap at one mile and one-eighth, over night entries include Love Sick, Marido, Kelchard, Hominy Imp, Wracia, Good Man and Billy Easter.

One additional distance event and five sprints round out the attractive card for the Wednesday afternoon fans. First post time is 1:45 o'clock.
